CURLEY FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER. PENTENCED TO BE HANGED ON MAY 18-WHAT HE

SAID BEFORE HE WAS SENTENCED. DUBLIN, April 18 .- The trial of Daniel Curley for participation in the murder of Lord Frederick Cavendish and Mr. Burke was resumed this morning. Mr. Adams, of counsel for the prisoners, spoke for the defence. Referring to the evidence against Curley given by Kavanagh, the car-driver, Mr. Adams declared that it did not prove that Curley was in Phonix Park on May 6 last. His presence there, said Mr. Adams, was indicated by the testimony of James Carey, who had stated that Curley was in command of the assassins at the time of the murders, but Carey testified to that effect in order to save his own neck from the gallows. There was no doubt that Carey himself was in command of the murderers. Mr. Porter, Attorney-General for Ireland, replied in behalf of the Crown. He declared that the evidence offered by the defence in support of an alibi for Curley was worthless and conflicting. He pointed out that though Peter Hanlon had professed to have been in Curley's company for the four hours covering the time the assassinations took place, and asserted that during that time he met various persons, the defence had produced only one of those persons. One of the defendant's witnesses, said Mr. Porter, testified that Curley was in a liquor-shop at the same time that Hanlon testified Curley was at

After Mr. Porter had concluded his argument the Judge delivered his charge to the jury. liis remarks were strongly against the trustworthiness of the evidence to prove He pointed out that there could not be the slightest doubt that the murders were perpetrated at the instigation of secret societies with which the prisoner was indisputably

The charge was completed at 2:30 p. m. and the jury retired immediately. They were absent only a short time, and on their return to the court-room announced that they found Curley guilty as charged in the indictment.

The prisoner on being asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced upon him, said that he had not expected any mercy from him, said that he had not expected any mercy from the Court. It was very unfortunate, he said, that the Irish bench was never without a Norbary or a Keogh. He admitted that he was a member of the Invincibles and was a Fenian, but declared that he was not in Phœnix Park on the evening the murders were committed. Curley said that he loved his country and could suffer for her. He declared that the witnesses who had testified for the Crown had perjured themselves.

After the prisoner had finished his speech he was sentenced to be hanged on May 18. As the officers were taking the prisoner from the dock, he cried out in a loud voice: "God save Ireland."

GOVERNOR BUTLER'S DELICACY.

EFFORTS TO PRESERVE A WITNESS'S REPUTATION FROM INJURY - WARM DISCUSSION IN THE TEWKSBURY ALMSHOUSE INQUIRY.

Boston, April 18 .- At the Tewksbury exmination to-day Mary E. Bowen, formerly an inmate and the mother of a child born out of wedlock, testilied to the neglected and flitny condition of the inmates, and the disrespect with which the dead were treated. Mr. Brown asked the witness several questions, which Govrnor Butler said were not pertinent. Mr. Brown re torted that the characters of subjects for criticism, and he proposed in this case to know this witness's cutire story. Governor limiter said he did not propose to sit still and allow his witnesses to be maligned. He asked the committee not to allow it. Some of their daughters might by chance come to this hell upon earth. Loud applause from the spectators fol-lowed. The Governor said that because the witness was a fallen woman her character should not be an issue in this case. She should answer all pertinent questions, but not those which sought to drag her down. Mr. Brown said his Excellency winced as he never had before. He called the Governor's attention to a case where he (the Gov ernor) questioned witnesses in regard to character, etc., in the most unheard of way. The committee decided by a vote of 5 to 4 to proceed with the cross-examination. Miss Bowen answered several questions, but would not give the name by which she was known in New-York, and out of this arose a long and frate discussion. Mr. Brown said he could not look up the witness's character for veracity unless he knew her New-York ame. The Governor had promised to give him a letter from Mr. King, of New-York, who had employed the wit-ness, but the Governor said he would not do so until he ness, but the Governor said he would not do so until he was ready. Mr. Brown said if this examination was to be anything but a farce for a political purpose, for this year and the next, the committee would not sustain the Governor in the position he had taken. The Governor said be had sent for the witness, and promised to protect her from infany. He would turn over Mr. King's tetter to the committee when ready, and the opposing counsel should see it. He had never used the words "political prejudice" before in this investigation, and not until the charge was made that it was for a political purpose. This slang of the newspapers was repeated here when he was performing one of the most painful duties ever imposed upon him, and of which he had avoided making a farce. He suggested that the commission take a vote on this and kindred questions to determine if they are political ones. Mr. Brown said the Governor had declared on four occasions during the examination that the testimony should go before the country, and he (Mr. Brown) could see no reason why the investigation should not be held with closed doors. In the name of Heaven, for what purpose can the country listen to the testimony except for a political purpose! This declaration of the Governor means something more than his Excellency, would admit.

what purpose can the country hatch to the deveror or a political purpose! This declaration of the Governor means something more than his Excellency, would admit.

The Governor said this investigation would interest the entire-country, where there were institutions like the entire-country, where there were institutions like Tewksbury, and ought to go before it. Aiready it had aroused examinations in other States. He had never had a political thought in connection with it. The only questions to be decided were the laws of propriety and humanity; but the opposing counsei took that narrow view of it of which he was capable.

The chairman said that the Governor's remark that another five-to-four vote would hand this committee down as another committee was handed down to the country by its eight-to-seven vote, was highly improper, and he hoped that no more political allusions would be made by any one of the counsel.

The Governor said he had as little respect for the chairman's opinion as the latter had for his; and that he had no respect for the chairman's decisions.

On being asked if Miss Bowen would be present tomorrow, Governor inther said if she was not here her testimony could ne stricken from the record.

TO EXTIRPATE THE GAMBLERS.

DETECTIVES VISIT MANY HOUSES, BUT FIND ALL EXCEPT TWO DESERTED-POLICY DEALERS AR-

Inspector Byrnes continued the active war against the gamblers in this city yesterday by descending seven more well known gambling although his detectives were houses, successful in capturing two only equipments, worth about $1,000. Early in the day Inspector Byrnes, after consulting with Inspectors Thorne and Murray, secured from Recorder Smyth many search-warrants. Twenty detectives were given the warrants at 4 o'clock, and were teld to search thoroughly, and if anywhere the proprietor of a gambling house refused to open a door or a safe, to break them open,

Detectives Dolan, Cosgrove and Kush took possession of the large gambling rooms 159 Fulton-st., of which 'Charley" Reed is the reputed proprietor. Here the officers secured a valuable booty, including one poker table, two fare tables, two roule:te tables, and a roulette wheel; three "lay-outs," check racks, one boxes, several thousand chips, and French pool wheels and playing cards. "Al" Tempkins is reported to be the proprietor of this resort, but he was not seen there.

Meantime several officers were not so successful. Detectives Von Gerichten, Dunn and McNaught found the gambling house at No. 226 Fifth-ave. empty and deserted. The rooms in which the gilded "dudes" of Murray Hill were wont to buck the royal tiger were destitute of wont to buck the royal tiger were destitute of gambling implements. Charies Dietrich, who is recognized as the illegal owner of this game, showed the officers every courtesy, but all the furniture had been spirited away. The same thing occurred at No. 51 West Thirty-first-st., where Detectives Heideiberg. O'Conner and Farley hunted in vann for gambling apparatus. The gambling place at No. 818 Broadway, near Twelfth-st., known as the "Central Club," was found in the same desolate condition by Detectives Dorcy, Langin and Handy.

Detectives Ruiand, Hickey, Lanthier and Haley searched every nook and corner of No. 100 West

Detectives Ruland, fickey, Landau and the searched every nook and corner of No. 100 West Thirty-second-st.—a place reputed to be managed by a gambier named Bennett. They found nothing, and the same bareness greeted the ing, and the same bareness greeted the efforts of Detectives Adams and Mangur, who captured the premises at No. 5 Park-place. Nobody was in the last-named place but a negro boy, who said to the officers with a broad smile: "Golly, boss! we moved away everything last night before I o'clock."

boss. I we moved away everything last night before I o'clock."

"I have a number of other warrants granted by the Recorder," said Inspector Byrnes, "which I propose to serve to morrow, or whenever I know a gambling house to be run publicly. I propose to continue this business until public gambling is exterminated. In fact the gambling business is virtually broken up in New-York today. You cannot enter a single gambling house and find a same in progress. I have received anonymous letters from "sporting" men who threaten to make it hot for me, and have me put in jail for trespass and illegal proceedings. I suppose there are plenty of good citizens who will bail me out. To those who say my proceedings are illegal, I reoly: Why does the Recorder grant me these warrants?"

Inspector Murray made a descent on the shops of several well-known policy-dealers yesterday afternoon, and arrested the following offenders: William Anderson, No. 94 East Houston-st.; Goorge Walker, No. 138 East Houston-st.; James Rafferty, No. 244 Elizabeth-st.; William Thompson and Thomas Wilson, No. 144 Hester-st.; Charles Lansing, No. 77 Forsyth-st.; George Ress, No. 152 Eldridge-st.; Bernard Daumenberg, No. 77 Forsyth-st.; They were all arranged at the Tombs Police Court and were held for trial in General sessions.

THE POLITICAL FIELD.

SINCERITY OF MACHINE LEADERS DOUBTED. THEIR PLAN FOR REORGANIZING THE PARTY IN THIS CITY ANALYZED-SOME CALL IT A SHAM. The proposed reorganization of the Republican party in this city was the subject of a discussion in political circles yesterday. Opinions differed as to the purpose of the Republican machine organization in appointing a special committee to

O'Brien on Tuesday night, is composed of eighteen members, as follows: Edward Mitchell, William Dowd, Lloyd Aspinwall, Channey M Depew, William H. Townley, Theodore W. Dwight, Ethott F. Shepard, Henry J. Seudder, James R. Marvin, Whitelaw Reid, George Jones, Hugh J. Hastings, Frederick Kuhne, John D. Lawson, Joseph Hart, John J. O'Brien. Charles S. Spencer and Solor B. Smith. Twelve of the eighteen mem bers of the committee are also members of the ma in full sympathy and active co-operation with the ruling spirits in the machine.

There was some doubt expressed among the politicians as to whether or not the committee was ap-pointed in good faith. When inquries were made of Michael Cregan on the subject, he winked one eye and remarked: "Now let those fellows that have been criticising us come forward and show what they are made of. If such a committee as that can't recommend a satisfactory plan, why then there is no use of talking any more about the need of reorganization. I don't want to use slang, but it is another case of put up or shut up."

Frank Raymond, the leader of the machine in the XXIIId District, said: "We have got no plan for re-organization. We want these fellows that have been fluding so much fault with us to propose a plan of their

"If your organization is representative, and does no need reorganization, how do you account for the fact that your candidate for the Assembly policed only 1,700 votes, while the opposition Republican candidate received 4, 100 !"

"That is easily accounted for, but why enter into that now! We want these representative Republicans to come forward with their plans, and then our Executive committee will consider them and take such action as

"This subject is bound to come up in the next. State Congretation," said another leader. "It is better to active it among ourselves and get it out of the way, so that it will not be hanging along in the Presidential election. If we can satisfy all those kickers before next fall, why we can carry the State."

A prominent Republicat, a leading merchant of the city, expressed his opinion on the subject of reorganization as follows: "If the party were reorganized that it would not be under the control of bosses big and little. I have no doubt that we could carry the State this year. But this scheme proposed by the machine leaders is a shan and is so intended. A few leading Republicans have been appointed, without their consent, to serve on a committee, the majority of which is made up of well-known machine adherents. And to make assurance doubly sure, that committee is to report to another committee which is formed entirely of the district boses. As if these men were going to adopt and carry out a plan to depose thouselves from power! If they are in carnest, why don't they follow 'Mike' Dady and reaign, or clee go to work and reorganize thomselves without resorting to any such sham as they have proposed! They know percelly well what the objections to the present system are, and it would be shadid them, a recognition of their right to control, for leading Republicans to act on a committee with them. A lively session occurred yesterday in the Hadson County (N. J.) Board of Canvassers. On Tuesday the Board organized by the election of Patrick O'Connor as chairman. After his election it was discovered that O'Connor was not legally a member of the Board, and a leclared the motion out of order. After wrangling, the Board adjourned until yesterday without transact ing any business. At noon yesterday the Board convened again in Jersey City, and the effort to oust O'Connor was renewed. Almost a riot ensued. The vote for John F. Lynch and Thomas Egan, candidates for Freeholder from the Hd District, was very close, Lynch having enough scattering votes to make him tie Egan if they were allowed. O'Conner was a partisan of Egan, and was determined that the scattering votes should not be allowed to Lynch. The friends of Lynch were equally determined that the votes should be allowed, and that O'Connor should be ousted from the chairmanship. Charles Maxwell was nominated for chairman by one of Lynch's friends, and O'Connor declared the nomination out of order. O'Connor's backers shouted and Lynch's friends howled. The members of the Board, with one or two exceptions, jumped on the seats and yelled themselves hoarse. Judge Knapp, who was presiding in the Circuit room adjoining, was obliged to presiding in the Circuit room adjoining, was obliged as suspend the trial of a case on account of the noise. He sent a force of constables in to queil the disturbance, but when they looked in the door and saw the pande-monium that prevailed they deeme it is prudent to retire. During a temporary luil Charles Bell was appointed sergeant-at-arms, and he succeeded in restoring a little order.

The roll was called and Maxwell was declared elected enairmon. O'Connor refused to vacate, whoreupon Maxwell publied a chair alongaide of him and entertained all the motions offered, but O'Connor declared the majority of them out of order. Both amounced the result of votes on motions and the result of the canvass as announced by the clerk. The main question, the contest between Lynch and Egan, seemed to be settled in favor of a tie vote; at least those who favored that side of it were either in the majority or had the strongest voices and most enduring lungs. The Freenoisers declared elected were Post and Clarke in the 1st District, Feely in the Hd, Nichols and Senober in the HHd, Lewis and Wilson in the 1Vth, Shrope and Clark in the Vth, siettam and Rapp to the Vth, Shrope and Clark in the Vth, stattam and Rapp to the Vth, Shrope and Stelarorenner in the Vth, Lills and Cavanaugu in the Vthin, Soaingel and Letts in the IXth, Baldwin and Stelarorenner in the Xth. The Boari stands: Republicans, 9; Democrats, 10, and there will be another Democrat when the tie becomity Board was 11,261 in favor of it and 5,324 against it. The roll was called and Maxwell was declared elected was had to-day in the Probate Court regarding the ap-pointment of an executor of the will of Albert Goodyear. who died six years ago, but whose will only recently came to light, after the death of his widow. The provisions of the will as to bequests and the general disposition of the property, amounting to nearly $100,000, have not been carried out. Mrs. Goodyear left a will, which has been probated, with A. J. Doolittle, of Hamden, as administrator. Benjamin A. Jarvis, of Cheshire, was appointed executor. Certain bank books in the possession of the executor and A. D. Goodyear, son of Albert Goodyear, will probably throw light upon the disposition of the estate. The time for filling the bond has been adjourned for one week. The will was withheld by Mrs. Goodyear, and there are bequests to persons whose rights may be affected. It is probable that there will be interesting legal questions as to the rights of legatees. The structures of the State provide severe penalties for the withholding by a will, but as Mrs. Goodyear's death places her beyond the reach of the law, it is an interesting question as to what steps will be taken in the premises. was appointed executor. TAUNTON, Mass., April 18 .- Ellen Hallasey, ton this morning, with her head in a tin basin and surrounded by pools of blood, and with a wound in her fore ead. William Flynn was found in an adjoining room severely cut in the forebead. His story is that Timethy, age nineteen, and John, age twenty-two, sons of the dead woman, were engaged to a fight last evening, when he interfered and was struck on the head by Timothy with a chair. The boys put him in bed, and the last he remembers was the yoman standing over him and trying to stanch the flow of blood. He was awakened at 3 o'clock this morning by John, who said his mother was dead. Both sons say they were away from home all night, but tell conflicting stories as to where they were. All the men were arrested and held for examination.

An autopsy showed that Mrs. Hallasey's death was caused by suffocation. The inference is that she rolled from a lounge, striking her forchend on the basin, which caused the wound, and that she was either stunned or too drunk to raise her head from the basin and was smothered.

HANNIBAL AND ST. JO. SOLD.

MR. GOULD GIVES UP HIS CONTROL.

HIS INTEREST AND THAT OF HIS ASSOCIATES TO BE TRANSFERRED TO THE CHICAGO, BURLINGTO AND QUINCY.

The directors of the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad Company met yesterday, but they remained in session only a short time. They were told that the control of the road had passed into the hands of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, and therefore, after the minutes of the previous meeting had been read, they adjourned finally. It had been expected by some persons that at this meeting the directors would decide upon the building of the extension from Quincy to Chicago, about which there has been a great deal of talk recently. It was known that responsible contractors had offered to build the new line at considerably less than $25,000 a mile, and that bonds to that amount would be taken by equally responsible subscribers. Several of the directors of the company were anxious that the new line should be built under what they considered a favorable contract, and the announcement that the real control of the road had passed out of their hands resulted in the immediate dissolution of the meeting before any definite action could be taken.

Jay Gould and a few friends have held control of the company since last September, when they bought almost the whole of the common stock from the brokers of John R. Duff, of Boston. Mr. Duff had successfully "cornered" the common stock nearly a year before, and had forced the price to 300, but in accomplishing had forced the price to 300, but in accomplishing this purpose he accumulated almost the whole of the stock. His brokers carried it for him a year, when they sold it to Mr. Gould and his friends. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad had made several offers for the control of the property, but nothing had been done. After Mr. Gould secured the stock, it entered into negotiations with him, which after many interruptions were ended vesterday.

THE TERMS OF THE SALE. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Company takes the common stock at cost and interest, about 45, and the preferred stock at face value. It pays for these in its 5 per cent bonds, which are now selling just above par. Mr. Gould and his friends hold about 90,000 shares of the com-mon stock, and it is understood to be a part of the present agreement that all holders of the preferred stock shall have the privilege of accepting the conditions of the agreement. Persons prominently ident ified with the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad expressed no doubt yesterday about the success of the sale. said that their only fear was that the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy might yet retreat. One of the directors of the company said that the agreement was not "copper-fastened" and might tumble to pieces at any moment.

Jay Gould said last night: "I consider the sale effected; I do not see how is can be stopped. It is greatly to the advantage of both parties. The Hannibal road naturally belongs to the Burlington Company, and the latter's acquisition of it insures perfect harmony between the Burlington line and the South western system of railroads.

"About the Burlington's telegraph lines? Oh, yes, the Western Union had a contract with it on its eastern end and a new contract, for a term of years, covering all its recent extensions, has been entered into. The transfer of the contract of the St. Joseph into. The transfer of the contract of the St. Joseph Road establishes perfect sympathy between the Burlington and the Southwestern systems in most only railroad but also telegraph matters. The sale is a good thing for all of us."

Some of the directors of the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad expressed considerable indiguation at the sale of the stock. They refused to say meet than that the sale had been made and that all the recent talk about the proposed extension to Chicago had been designed to affect the price at which the large stockholders could sell their boldings. Charles E. Perkins, president of the Chicago, Burlingian and Quincy Railroad, is expected to reach this city late to-night on business connected with the sale.

POSITION OF THE HANNIBAL ROAD. POSITION OF THE HANNIBAL ROAD.

The pool history of the Hannibat and St. Joseph line has been a varied one, without producing important changes in the relations between the thwestern railroads. Stretching in a straight road has occupied a position which would enable is to annoy seriously its 'neighbors-the Wabash system on the south and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy system on the north-by entering into River points and Chicago and other places further eastward. In each of these contests the Hannibal and St. Joseph Company has obtained concessions from the other competing lines which it could not have obtained if it had not occupied its independent, guestilla-like position. If its lines had been more extended its interests would have been more in harmony with its rivals; but as it was the road was enabled to secure frequent increases in its percentages in the various pools, because it was recognized as a line separate in character from the rest of the Southwestern system. A well-informed railroad officer said last evening; "To the extent that the Burlington and Quincy will be enabled to control the aggressions of the Wabsah by using the Hannibal and St. Joseph agains it as a direct power, the acquisition of the road will be an important gain to it." any contest over through rates between Missouri

THE HISTORY OF THE DUFF "CORNER." One of the notable features of Wall Street in the summer of 1881 was the "corner" in Hannibal and St. Joseph common stock. Its price rose from 9d's to 131 in one day, and it subsequently advanced to over 300. John R. Duff, of Boston, whose father was the virtual creator of the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad, originated the "corner." The purchases of the "pool" ran up to about 90,080 purchases of the "pool" ran up to about 90,000 shares. This gave the members of the pool practical comrol of the company. Among the settlements made by the sufferers who had sold the stock "short" was, according to common report, that by James K. Keene at about 180. Russell Sage was reported to have lost a great deal of money, and Amos L. Hopkins, now the second vice president of the Gonid Southwestern system of railroads, carried his losses to the coarts, but subsequently made a private settlement. The broker employed by Mr. Duff to conduct his operations was W. J. Hatchinson, and out of his transactions grew the controversy which ended in his expulsion from the Stock Exchange. The pool enforced its settlements and was then left with a large amount of stock to carry. In lark September it soil out to Jay Gonid and his associates at 42. With the sale came the necessary changes in the board of directors, and the subsequent dealings in the stock were small in amount, at figures that were practically made by the parchaser.

Bosron, Mass., April 18 -The purchase of the Hannibal road will call for $9,000,000 of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy 5 per cent bonds, the annual interest on which—$450,000—added to the interest guaranteed, $654,849, makes the Chi-cago, Burlington and Quincy's annual obligations on account of this purchase $1,100,000.

Boston, Apr.: 18 .- President Perkins, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, was seen by a representative of The Advertiser, and is authority for the statement that the proposed purchase by his road of the Hannibat and St. Jeseph road was consummated this evening in the conference between himself and Mr. Ames.

THE CLAIM AGAINST UNION PACIFIC. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

WASHINGTON, April 18 .- Solicitor-General Philips, of the Department of Justice, said to-day that he does not expect that any proceedings against the Union Pacific Railroad Company will be begun at this term of the Supreme Court. There are suits pending in the Court of Claims, which were brought by that company against the United States brought by that company against the due on account on account of money claimed to be due on account of transportation, and, Mr. Phillips said, there had been some talk of putting in the claim against the company on account of "net earnings" due the company on account of "net earnings" due the United States under the Thurman act as a counter claim in the suits brought by the company. The at-torneys will be consulted in regard to that, he said, before anything is done in the matter. If this course
